Letter From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8. With a roaring fire burning on the hearth, all the windows and doors closed and a pipe between my lips, I can bid defiance to the elements, and gather my wits together, thankful that my lines have fallen in pleasant places, and that I am not compelled to go out upon the streets such miserable weather as this. During the past week we have had a horrible time, that is to say, horrible so far as the amount of discomfort we have had to endure, is concerned. We have been favored with almost a continual storm of hail and rain with bitter cold weather. The wet season opened with a veritable snow storm, an event beyond the recollection of even that mythological individual the oldest inhabitant. In the suburbs the hills were covered with snow. The effect was proportionally charming, but in the city, about Montgomery and California streets, the effect was far from pleasing, and the comfort was about the same. Mud and slush reign triumphant, our streets are in a dreadful condition, and whilst we are all glad to see the rain, nevertheless we all wish it was well over.

A MONSTER HOTEL. San Francisco is fast attaining pre-eminence as the focus of travel. People who have resided here for years and are intimately acquainted with the varied phases of California life have scarcely awakened to the value of the attractions that impel pilgrimage hither. We have already secured a liberal share of the travel of those from the east, west and north, who are compelled to seek balmy climes to spend the winter months. (Kindly forget about the snow storm mentioned in the previous paragraph, as this was a very exceptional case). During the past year the hotel interests of the city have increased at a wonderful rate, the buildings erected have exceeded in size almost anything before conceived in this line in America, but these have been found wholly insufficient to meet the demand for accommodation. The Grand, the Lick, the Occidental and the Cosmopolitan have been found quite inadequate to meet the requirements of the traveling public, and now comes to the front two of our wealthiest capitalists, Sharon and Ralston, who propose building the largest hotel in the world. The new hotel will occupy a space of 20,000 feet. The cost is estimated at $2,000,000, and the site is one of the greatest publicity, viz., that lot of land bounded by New Montgomery, 244 feet, Market, 275 feet, Annie, 304 feet and Jessie 225 feet. To give you the particulars of the building would occupy too much space, but I may mention that the dining room will be 165 feet in length and 55 feet in width, the breakfast room will be 110 feet in length and 55 feet in width. The edifice will be six stories high, and capable of furnishing accommodation to 1,200 guests. There will be no room that is not lighted directly from the open air, and each suite of rooms and some of the single rooms will have bath tubs and every other requisite for the comfort of the visitors. This monster hotel will undoubtedly take some time to erect, but with the mine of money that Sharon and Ralston have taken the matter in hand, delay must not be looked for. The work of clearing the ground has already commenced, and the advertisements for tenders for the foundation have already appeared.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT. The glorious muddle in our Fire Department, referred to in my last, still continues. The old Board still hold possession and although we have two elected chiefs yet they both have no far shown their common sense as not to allow the party squabbles to interfere with the working of the department. The new chief (Scannell) has consented not to act until the whole affair has been settled in the courts. In the meantime the old Board refuse to hand over the archives. The new Board hold meetings all over the town, brag and boast a good deal, and winding up by the forms and ceremonies of electing their men over again. From beginning to end it is simply disgraceful, and the sooner it is stopped the better. Both the chiefs are good men none will deny, but with a city like this, mostly built of wood, with a supply of water very inefficient, it does seem a pity that our only protection in case of fire should have its efficiency destroyed by the cabals of politicians. Which are in the right it would be vain to say, and even when you have heard both sides of the question it is difficult to decide.

ATWELL HARD UP. Last Saturday afternoon a seedy-looking individual entered one of the many pawnbroker shops on Kearny street; after waiting for his turn for some time, he at last faced "mine uncle." Pawnbrokers as a rule are proof against surprises, but on this occasion old "cent per cent" was considerably taken aback when his customer placed his fingers to his mouth, and drew out a set of false teeth, asking in plaintive tones (somewhat unintelligible from the loss of his grinders) how much could be borrowed on his offering. One dollar and a half was all he could get, which, much to his disgust, he was compelled to take, remarking that less than a week ago he had paid no less than twenty-five dollars for that which was now priced so very low. Necessity, however, knows no laws, and he pocketed his coin and left the shop, vainly endeavoring to keep a stiff lower lip.

THE LOST FOUND. Oakland, for some weeks past, has been excited over the very mysterious appearance of a young lady named Jane Lamping. For the first few days no trace of her whatever could be found, then it was announced that she had taken service in a gentleman's family, having been compelled to leave her home owing to the unkindness of her parents. This report was never groundless. Cupid was at the bottom of it, and Cupid this time was assisted by a sexton, not by occupation but by name. Since the young lady's disappearance Sexton (who was known to be sweet on her) had acted in so secret a manner, that it was thought well to watch him. It was discovered that he continually received letters, in the name of Reid, through the postoffice. One of these letters apparently was read by the police officer in charge of the case; it was then found that the young lady was an inmate of the Foundling Hospital, under the name of Jessie Reid, whither she had flown until such times as her lover could afford to marry her. Sexton's conduct aroused the indignation of the father and mother Lamping, but the even flow of existence, with the prospect of future happiness or misery, was established on Friday by the marriage of the young man to the runaway. Oh, there's nothing half so sweet in life as love's young dream.

AMUSEMENTS. It has been a bad week for theatrical managers—empty benches the order of the night, and empty treasuries the natural result. At the California a new play was produced last night, which promises to draw well. "Geneva Cross" is the title, and the posters announcing its production would do credit to a circus agent. At the Opera House, the Opera Bouffe company are having a little rest, which they must certainly require, as they have been indefatigable for some time past. The programme now is a short opera and a shorter comedy, instead of one long opera. Madame Anna Bishop is again with us. She advertises grand farewell concerts for this week.

MISCELLANEOUS. A certain young actress who appears nightly at one of our theatres in male costume, has taken to promenading the streets in her theatrical attire. The papers have warned her that she is committing a misdemeanor, and the warning has so far proved unavailing. Man much given to Barbara Coast whiskey tried the effects of a bottle of vitriol the other night by accident. Man not dead yet, but expects to be. Great land squabble in the Western Addition, bullets flying around indiscriminately, one lodged in Charley Duane's toe. Scarletina running around in a most outrageous manner. Mothers disconsolate. Doctors triumphant. Politicians came from Sacramento to spend their Sunday in town. Lots of button holding done on our streets Saturday night and Sunday. The hoodlum tyrant Harris, of the Industrial School, resigned. New tyrant appointed who is cleaning the Augean stable. GOLDEN GATE.

The object of the society is the improvement of blended and other stock, and the advancement of all the interests of Southern California. It is desirable that the farmers, manufacturers, stock raisers, merchants, and others should be members of the society. No members thereof cordially invite and request all such to purchase one or more shares of stock, and the advance money, and interest added, the amount of assessments already paid. The Secretary is authorized to issue stock to any and all who wish to become members. More than the price per share is represented by property with a perfect title. All owners of stock, even if only one share, are entitled to all the privileges of the society, such as a voice in all its councils, eligibility to office, and an entrance badge for himself and family into all the attractions and entertainments given. Persons desiring to do so, may pay $10, and get a paid-up share. The society particularly invite our farmers to become members. By order of the Society, HENRY C. TRUMAN, Sec. 104-14f. REMOVAL. The Street Railroad.

The stock books of the Street Railroad Company are now open at Temple & Workman's Bank, and quite a number of shares have already been subscribed. The Capital Stock is to consist of 700 shares of $20 each. Twenty per cent. is to be paid in at the time of subscribing, and the balance in installments as called for by the Directors, until the shares are fully paid up, after which no stock is liable to assessment, unless by the unanimous consent of the shareholders.

The prospects are that the stock will soon all be taken, and the construction of the road begun at an early date. The completion of the road is a matter of great importance to the people of Los Angeles. Our city is spread over a good deal of ground, and the natural design of our citizens in this beautiful climate to possess large grounds and gardens, has a tendency to scatter population. This makes it essential that we should at all times have some cheap, quick and easy means of communication. Such a means as a street railroad will afford. Not only will it soon get their money back in the increased value of their lands. In all the Eastern cities, street railroads have proved to be immensely profitable and in many of them, no larger than Los Angeles, the stock cannot be bought at any price. This fact, taken in connection with the liberal terms offered by the company, should insure the subscription of the necessary amount in a few days.

A CONUNDRUM.

What is the reason that the average country editor cannot help misrepresenting when he undertakes to quote the opinion of an exchange? The Southern Californian represents us as favoring the use of railroads as common highways upon which everybody should be allowed to run their own private trains at their own will. That we never advocated anything of the kind will appear to any one who reads our article. What we did suggest, was that roads built wholly or in part by the State, should be declared public highways on which any one should be allowed to run trains, subject to all necessary regulations, such regulations to be presented and enforced by the State. The Californian thinks this idea Utopian. We should like that astute authority on railway matters to explain why such a plan is impracticable. Canals have been operated in that matter from time immemorial, and we never hear of any difficulty. It is not essential to regularity of movement that the same company should own the track and the rolling stock, and all over the United States there are corporations owning cars which they hire hauled over the various roads, paying so much per mile for the service, and making their own freight rates.

The Difference.

Just now our Eastern friends are wrestling with the problem of how to provide for their poor. A terrible financial revulsion has swept over the country, crippling the energies of the strongest, and bringing untold misery to the poor and weak. To add to the distress the howling storm of a Northern winter are upon them, bringing in their dismal train, the added horrors of a rigorous climate. In New York, the working-men have met in convention, and resolved that they will supply their families with the necessities of life, and send the bills to the City Treasury for liquidation. There are 18,000 skilled workmen out of employment in the State of New York, and 7,500 persons apply for lodgings at the City Station house, weekly. Throughout the East, and even in the prosperous interior States, the same story of thousands out of employment, of increased suffering and destitution, is found in every newspaper. Here in Southern California; let us thank our splendid climate and generous soil that there can be little actual want or suffering. There is work for everybody. Our soil, with its rich and varied products, is capable of sustaining a teeming population, and we have no cold and biting winter to add to the expense of living. The necessities of life are plentiful and cheap; our population can live out of doors the coldest day in the year; ice and snow are unknown, and labor is well rewarded.

Stock raisers in the northern portion of the State have lost heavily during the recent storm. Here in Southern California no such contingencies ever arise, and the stock grower does not have to make a liberal allowance for loss by bad weather. Settlers in this State should make a note of this.

A Call for Facts.

Our opposition to the scheme of securing government aid for the Texas Pacific has aroused the ire of the San Diego Union and it is ravenous for facts. Like the Irishman who was afraid of justice, we apprehend that facts are just the thing our San Diegoan has the least use for. But he has demanded them and here they are. The HERALD holds that subsidizing the Texas Pacific is full of danger to our National interests. San Diego tragically demands the facts. Has the Union forgotten Credit Mobilier? Has the fearful demoralization of the administration forces by dabbling in railroad building escaped its memory? Have the dying groans of Colfax and Bingham, and Patterson, and a host of greater and lesser lights in the Republican party ceased to echo in its ears? The Union places party above country, and we ask it to recall the ruin that government railroad building wrought in the high places of the party of its choice, and has not the government suffered? To say nothing about the vast territory and the millions of money that have been squandered, one into the pockets of the speculators and corrupt congressmen, the demoralization that has resulted menaces our existence even as a nation. Does the Union dare to assert that the purchase of seats in the United States Senate, the bribing of Congressmen, the wholesale purchase of Legislators to which railroad subsidizers are notoriously addicted is not dangerous? Is there no danger or disgrace in such practices as Caldwell, and Patterson, and Brooks, and Harlan and Ames, and the rest of the corrupt crew are guilty of?

The Union wishes to know what experience our government has had in building railroads that should deter it from going ahead? We reply we ask when has it ever had anything to do with railroad building that it has not been swindled. It gave the Union Pacific an empire and in addition guaranteed its bonds to an amount sufficient to build the road. By bribery it was swindled out of its security, and now has both interest and principle to pay, with no chance of getting a dollar in return. The experience of the general government is the experience of almost every State and county that has dabbled in the subsidy business. Look at the Southern States, overwhelmed with bankruptcy by their ventures in railroad building. Look at the counties and townships of Illinois, Iowa, Indiana and other northwestern States, loaded down with an indebtedness that generations will not be able to pay, gone to swell the coffers of railway gamblers, with nothing to show for their lavish expenditure. Is there nothing in all this experience to cause the people to hesitate? Are there no lessons to be learned from all this shameful record of robbery and extravagance? Now these are not what the Union is pleased to call "reckless assertions" and "parrot-like phrases." We dare any one to controvert them, and we ask that the Union shall not go off in a fine frenzy, and utterly ignore the facts; facts are what it is after, and facts are here enough to surfeit the most ravenous organ of monopoly that ever breathed the air of a subsidy ridden country. The Union talks of security to the government if it guarantees the bonds. Who has offered any security, and what security can be given, that has not already been tested a hundred times, and found to be utterly hollow and worthless. What are guarantees worth from men who use the very subsidy granted them, to buy release from the terms of their contract. Will the Union come down to business, and dispose of a few of these stubborn facts? We pause for a reply.

THE Farmer's Jute Manufacturing Company, 309 Pine St., San Francisco, are ready to distribute small quantities of seed among those who will help test the capability of California to raise her own jute, and keep at home the millions of dollars spent for that article. Send stamps to pay return postage on the seed, and you will get a supply by mail.

If the San Francisco papers really have the tremendous circulation they claim, we think they ought to give their readers a better return for their money. Thirty thousand subscribers are certainly entitled to more than fourteen columns of matter.

S. H. H. Clark, Assistant General Superintendent of the Union Pacific, has returned from the West after completing the most thorough preparation for the storms of the coming winter. The present condition of the road in this respect has never been approached before. Miles of track have been raised out of the reach of blockade, and the lessons of experience have been used in providing large quantities of sheds, and fences so fixed as to break the force of storms. Large sums of money and much energetic work have been applied to this purpose, and the Company have no apprehension that their trains will be delayed.

QUICKKILLER.—The Cerro Conito Quickkiller Mine promises to take rank among the best producers of that mineral known to the world. There are 1,000 tons of metal now on the dump, and at least 1,000 more in sight. A furnace on the Knox plan, costing $30,000, will be ready to reduce ore in a month's time, houses for the accommodation of the workmen are in course of construction, and everything is in a state of forwardness to commence business. The mine is situated in Fresno county, about fifty-five miles distant from San Juan, on the ridge between the San Benito and New Idria. —[Monterey Democrat.]

A "mock" Legislature has been organized at Oakland. Several bills have already been before the House, among which was one striking the word "male" from the State Constitution.

It is not generally known that we have here in California a State University, where tuition is absolutely free and open to students, young men or women, from any State or country. It is devoted to the higher education, literary and scientific, of the youth of our country in general, and the Pacific Coast in particular.

Here is the latest prescription for the destruction of squirrels. Boil one-third of a pint of vinegar, add to this one ounce of fine pulverized strychnine, stir well, put it into six quarts of water, in an old tin pan. Half of this dose was sufficient to kill sixty-two squirrels in three days over in Alameda county.

CALIFORNIA AS A GRANARY.—California gives promise of looming up into new prominence as one of the greatest of grain-producing countries. And just now, when Russia and the United States are looked to by England and France to make up a deficiency of 150,000,000 bushels, California comes up smiling with her fair share of the needed grain.

During the three month period, September 30th, there left the Golden Gate 138 vessels, carrying 80,000 tons, or nearly 3,000,000 bushels, and thus far this year such shipments from California have aggregated 225,000 tons, or some 8,800,000 bushels. At least one-third more has been shipped during the year than the corresponding period of last year. The season's crop has been a good one, and although the yield has been somewhat below that of 1912, the cash value of the crop, at the advanced prices of the year, has been greater than any previous year. This is the first state of things has stimulated the farmers in all the wheat-growing counties to devote more land to wheat, and it is already evident that the coming year will show an increase of thousands of acres in the acreage sown to wheat. As in almost every other case she produces, California may justly boast of her wheat as a world's marvel, both in quantity and quality, and her development in this direction is likely to insure more to the world's benefit than has the gold which has been snatched from her bosom. —[New York Mail.]

SHEEP KILLED.—The Marysville Appeal, of December 9th, says: A large number of sheep have died since the storm of last Wednesday, and more will die because of the wet and cold weather. We heard that the sheep raisers in Butte county have suffered large losses. In this county the herdsmen have not been heard from except in a few instances. Thomas F. Kimball, who has two flocks of 1,000 each, one in this county and the other in Butte, had lost about twenty sheep up to Saturday, but was expecting to lose heavily if the cold rainy weather continued. There are many flocks of sheep in Colusa county grazing along the foothills of the Coast range, where they cannot be fed, and where great fatality may be expected to occur. Kimball is of the opinion that the loss by the storm will be equal to half of the natural increase for the season. He is feeding his flocks, beside 100 head of horses and other stock.

Bunker Hill.

A little over a year more, and the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill will take place. A little band of heroes, then inaugurated a struggle, which brought untold results. It is very fitting that their deeds should be commemorated. The nation at large is very justly arranging for a celebration on an extensive scale, of the centennial anniversary of this event. This will instill patriotic impulse into the souls of those of the coming generations, and prepares them for the struggles, which they, in like manner, must undergo. Overhanging Los Angeles is a hill similar to Bunker Hill—nay, it is larger. From it all the city can be seen and the country for miles around. On this hill also, are military marks, the remnants of a fort, which was built for the protection of liberty in this State. This hill has an avenue running along its crest, and our friend Beaudry, through whose influence chiefly it has been opened, has very appropriately named it Bunker Hill avenue. The City Surveyor has been ordered to define the grades and lines of Olive, Charity, and Bunker Hill avenue, from Hill to Hope; Second street, and Temple street, from Hill to Hope. This will bring these lands within easy reach of the business part of the city. The distance to the Court House is less than it is from the Turners Hall.

Mr. Beaudry being the owner, by perfect and indisputable title, offers the following scheme, believing that it supplies a felt want.

His various tracts have been surveyed, and placed in lots of convenient size for residences, upwards of two hundred in number, and the maps, together with abstracts of title, are kept for public inspection at his office, opposite the Pico House.

Any person desiring to purchase can inspect the land, select his lot, and acquire the same, if not previously taken up by another, upon the following terms: Purchasers not being restricted to a single lot.

The purchaser or his successor to pay the fixed price of the lands selected by him, in equal monthly installments, as follows: On lots valued at $400 and upwards, $15 per month; on those valued at $300 and upwards, and less than $400, $10 per month. Payments in gold or currency, and no interest demanded. For cash in hand a reduction of fifteen per cent. will be made.

The purchaser to have immediate possession upon payment of the first installment and on execution and delivery of contract.

The right of the purchasers may be assigned by him and his assigns, to succeed to all his privileges and liabilities; standing in all respects towards the vendor as an original obligor.

Purchasers shall not be restricted to the payment of the installments as above shown, but may make payments in advance, and on all such payments he will allow one per cent. per month, from the date of payment until said payment would become due.

Upon selection of a lot or lots by a purchaser, and payment of the first installment with five dollars, in U. S. gold coin, as expenses on the document, Mr. Beaudry, and on all such payments he will allow one per cent. per month, from the date of payment until said payment would become due.

These proposals will be kept open until the 15th day of February, 1914. The location is very desirable. All that has heretofore been lacking is water, and that want is now fulfilled. Anywhere else, in as desirable location, lots readily command from $500 to $1,000 and even higher rates. This property is put at the astonishing low price of from $300 to $400. But this is not all. This may be paid either in gold or currency and a reduction of fifteen per cent. will be made for cash in hand.
